INVITATION

In spring of 1944, the mass deportation of 85 thousand (according to different sources up to 100 thousand) Jewish people from Transcarpathia were deported to Auschwitz (and other concentration camps) and as a result, the Jewish population in Transcarpathia significantly decreased and almost vanished. Most of the death camp's survivors never returned to Transcarpathia, and later the conditions of the Soviet regime were not favourable for a return. For those survivors who did return, the door was closed to leave by the Soviets.

The Shalom Foundation of Beregszász-Berehovo has organized a program to be held on 21 June 2016, to dedicate a memorial to the Victims of the Holocaust from Beregszász-Berehovo.
